Not All in Bringing Up.

It isn't all in bringing up:
Let folks say what they will;
You silver-wash a pewter cup—
It will be pewter still.
E'en he of old, wise Solomon,
Who said "train up a child,"
If I mistake not, raised a son,
Gay, rattle-brained and wild.

A man of mark, who fain would pass
For lord of sea and land,
May have the training of an ass,
And bring him up full grand;
May give him all the wealth of lore,
Ot college and of school,
I et after all make him no more
Than just a decent fool.

Another, raised by penury
Upon her bitter bread,
Whose road to knowledge is like that
The good, for heaven, must trend,
Has got a spark of Nature's light,
He'll fan it to a fame,
Till in its burning letters bright
The world may read his name.

If it were all interinging up,
In counsel and restraint,
Some rascals had been honest me
I'd been, myself, a saint.
O' 'tisn't all in bringing up,
Let folks say what they will;
Neglect may dim a silver cup—
It will be silver still.
